EU grant received to further enhance Covid resistant face-masks

Directa Plus (AIM: DCTA), a leading producer and supplier of graphene nanoplatelets based products for use in consumer and industrial markets, announces that it has received a grant as part of the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme.

The grant has a total value of €100,000, on a non-refundable basis, and covers a project which is expected to be concluded within the next 8 months.

As part of the Inno4Cov-19 Project, the grant will be used to assist Directa's research into using graphene technology to help prevent the spread of Covid-19. This will build on Directa's work undertaken during 2020 to develop the G+[®] face-mask and G+[®] filtering system.

The main technical targets of the projects are:

- To undertake the extensive testing and improvement needed to qualify and market G+ enhanced surgical masks (compliant to European Standard EN 14683)
- The development of new biodegradable G+[®] enhanced filters
- Development of a sanitification process for the face-mask using household items such as an iron or a hairdryer

Commenting, Giulio Cesareo, Founder and CEO of Directa Plus, said: "We are very proud of Directa's contributions so far to the fight against Covid-19.

"In conjunction with our research partners we have proven that graphene enhanced materials can hinder the spread of Covid more effectively than other fabrics.

"This grant will allow us to invest further and faster in improving the properties of our face-masks, allow us to supply them into clinical settings, and improve the environmental sustainability of their production."

About Directa Plus

Our focus is principally on the two sectors in which we have strong commercial advantage through developed and launched products and a technological lead: environmental (based on our Grafysorber® product) and textiles (based on our G+® products). In addition, we will continue to pursue opportunities in elastomers and composites (including tyres and asphalt), also using our G+® products. All our products are hypoallergenic, non-toxic and sustainably produced.
